Ere sin had cast a withering shade - - - - 132
Ellen, list thy lover's vow - - - - - - 150
Farewell! that little word has power - - - 37
Farewell, farewell! Sad word and wild - - - 117
Flowers, sweet flowers, with your fragrance free - 121
Fair Concord! flow softly and silent along - - 189
Forgive thee! yes, I do forgive thee - - - 196
Favoring gales from the landward are blowing - 221
Farewell, earth, your bright adorning - - - 292
Ha! leave ye in affright - - - - - - 53
He comes, he comes, the frost spirit comes - - 116
How changed is my life, since the tempest of sorrow 165
How often we sing of our forefathers' deeds - - 172
How keen the anguish of a mother's heart - - 210
Hers was a bright and buoyant spirit once - - 262
How the tiny wren is making - - - - - 298
How happy they whom reason shows - - - 309
Hark! how the echoes of freedom delighted - - 339
If I could cherish one such thought - - - 10
I will not chide, O lady fair - - - - - 34
I thought in a dream I was prompted to trace - - 44
If I could catechize my mind - - - - - 59
I've seen the rose and tulip fair - - - - 78
It is not by the generous deeds that are done - 92
If I could ask one boon of heaven - - - - 100
I see thee still, my once beloved - - - - 188
If he loves much to whom is most - - - - 211
I went to gather flowers - - - - - - 260
I see not thy waters, O beautiful stream - - - 305
In the deep oaken woods, when the summer is near 333
I'm weary of this weary world - - - - 340
Know ye the land that gave freedom her rest - - 230
Leap forth to the careering breeze - - - - 84
Let others strive for power and fame - - - 323
Little fountain, bright and sparkling - - - 349
Laid in my quiet bed, in study as I were - - 371
My earliest Sabbath hours shall raise - - - 38
My study window! What a daybreak scene - - 51
Millennial hymn - - - - - - - - 54
May the virtues of heaven reside in your heart - 69
My long lost years, my mountain home - - - 325
Now the dreary winter's over - - - - - 277
Night dream of the consumptive - - - - 363
Not long ago, not long ago - - - - - 378
O who has not felt in this dark world of ours - - 6
O where are the flowers - - - - - - 18
One day in merry June, I, then a lad - - - 21
On with your burden, on! The spot is fair - - 51
On being asked if I should like to visit Georgia again 123
Oh, there were many beauteous flowers - - - 129
Oh, sable night! how terrible thou art - - - 140
Oh, breathe again that welcome song - - - 149
O think not that those cruel sneers - - - - 149
Oh! tell me not of those bright days - - - 159
Oh, memory, sweet enlivener of the soul - - - 174
O let me go down all alone - - - - - 180
O cherish this volume, 'tis memory's token - - 188
Ode to the little newts - - - - - - 244
Oh, come with me, Mary - - - - - - 245
Oh! tis a sad and fearful thing - - - - 357
O friend, the light is dead - - - - - 369
Peace! let me rest. I'll wait in quiet calm - - 195

There is a guiding light within the mind - - - 206
There comes a voice from all around - - - 228
'Twas night o'er fair Italia's thousand hills - - 229
The western emigrant; a prize poem - - - 253
The winds howled o'er that rock-bound shore - - 316
'Tis not when through the busy street - - - 324
To Leila, away - - - - - - - - 331
'Tis not for thy beauteous eyes - - - - 339
The warning voice - - - - - - - - 339
The poet's theme - - - - - - - - 355
They do but err who deem that thought can die - 364
The skies are clear, the heats are fled - - - 372
Thou art shut at last from the bright blue sky - - 396
They go, a fresh and beautiful band - - - 404
Verses on a beautiful flower - - - - - 165
Who seeks her Lord in glorious guise - - - 13
Why stands that half-reared granite pile - - - 45
When our fathers went forth in the pride of their right 53
Whither, little roving stranger - - - - - 102
When virtue meets the just award of vice - - 205
Weep not for the pleasures of youth's sunny hours - 44
When first the bold and pious pilgrim band - - 286
Why mourn we not, when youth has past the time - 332
Walk in the light of thine eyes - - - - 347
Who knows what lies in the depths below - - 380
Who would be buried in a city - - - - 390
When clouds of misfortune and trouble appear - 237
When coffin'd in thy narrow bed - - - - 242
Yes, bright and beautiful they are - - - - 14
Ye've gathered once again about the bier - - 82
You will not see him more - - - - - 137
Young was she then and beautiful - - - - 331
